GLORIOUS DAYS

SE Valentine Dines

THE FACE OF MODERN BRITISH IMPRESSIONISM

SHERREE VALENTINE DAINES

THE FACE OF MODERN BRITISH IMPRESSIONISM

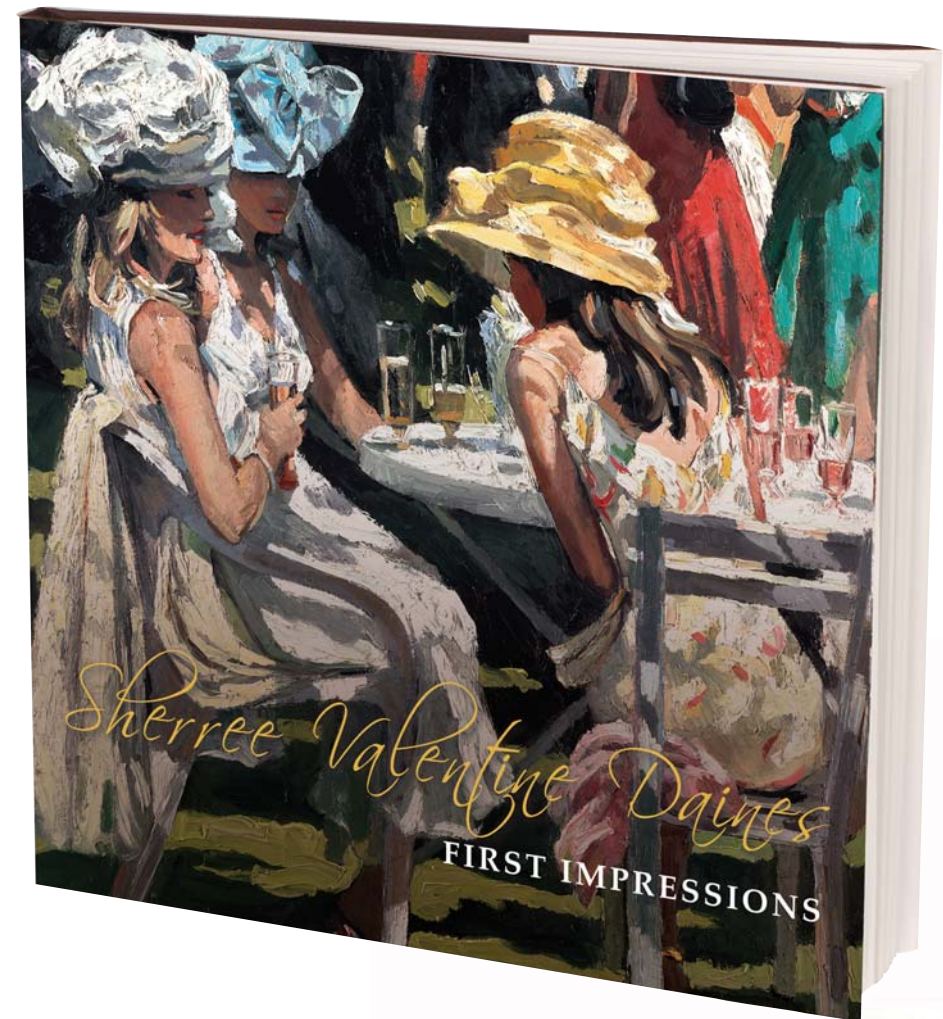

Sherree Valentine Daines is the UK's most highly regarded figurative artist. She has an impressive track record of exhibitions at such venues as the Tate Gallery, the Barbican, the New English Art Club and the Lord's Museum and her unquestionable virtuosity has made her a favourite with many celebrity collectors including members of the British Royal Family. Famous names in the world of show-business have sat for her including Joanna Lumley and Michael Parkinson, she has been televised painting members of the England cricket team, and as official artist to the Rugby World Cup she produced magnificent commemorative portraits of Martin Johnson and Jonny Wilkinson, both of which were bought by the stars concerned.

"While I spend the Winter months closeted in my studio working away, I like to get out and about as much as I can during the Summer. Much of my painting is inspired by the English social calendar, so I always attend Royal Ascot and Henley, as well as a variety of other events with my sketchbook and camera, or sometimes even my easel.

These special days are a recurring theme in my work, as I find the colours, the atmosphere, the elegant figures, and not least the interplay of light and shadow totally inspirational. In a way my paintings represent a diary of 'GLORIOUS DAYS' and wonderful memories that I hope others can relate to and enjoy."
